Surely (When God Speaks)

Do you always say what you mean?

The answer for the vast majority of us is no. Even the most literal person is apt to offer a partial truth to flatter someone or to shorten a conversation. We say things we don't mean. We don't say things we mean. And too often we're just plain mean.

Surely (When God Speaks) cont. from pg 1

Frankly, since human words are often more mean than meaningful, we often have trouble listening to each other. Our listening skills are particularly compromised when we don't want to hear what's being said or we're too busy to pay attention.

Psychiatrist Morgan Scott Peck offers this insight in his best-selling book, The Road Less Traveled, "You cannot truly listen to anyone and do anything else at the same time."

But the truth is we're often busy multitasking: texting, checking our email, surfing the internet, or planning what we will say while the other person is talking, or what we will do once the conversation ends.

Our current worship series is titled Words. While not all communication requires them, the words we speak or write are powerful. And so are words we don't say or write.

In this week's chapters from Woman of Words, the Temple police arrest Mary and Matthew. They bring Matthew before Theophilus, the High Priest, who warns him to stop assisting Mary with writing the stories of Yeshua. They bring Mary before the former High Priest, Annas, who Nicodemus warned was the real power broker behind the scenes.

In a show of power, Annas reads aloud excerpts from stolen manuscripts, shedding light on what happened to the missing stories.

Mary tells Annas her Son is the Messiah. When questioned how she was so certain, she shared how an angel told her what was to happen before Yeshua's birth. Her Son had no earthly father, for He was the Son of God.

After Matthew's release, he shares these thoughts while observing the people going about their day's busyness. "Outside the Temple, righteous Israel was on full display in the blue robes of the Pharisees, the richly embroidered garments of the Sadducees, and the spotless white robes of the Essenes... Mingling among these pictures of piety were ordinary people like me and Peter and Mary—those who knew they were sinful creatures but who wanted to please HaShem [God] above all else... These were the wounded our Messiah came to redeem, and they were the people for whom Mary and I were writing."

Matthew's musing sets up the irony of Mary's arrest ordered by Annas, who also was the first to question her Son after His arrest. "How do you know this?" was the High Priest's question after Mary told Him that Yeshua is the Messiah. "I've seen Him," Mary replied.

Upcoming Worship Series "Words"

There is a plethora of metaphors that warn us about the impact of the words we speak. One that comes to mind is words are like toothpaste. Once you squeeze toothpaste out of the tube, you can't put it back.

And God said through the Prophet Isaiah that God's Word never returns empty, but always does whatever God intended.

We refer to the Bible as God's Word. We read Jesus is God's Word in the opening lines of John's Gospel.

Book Club News

Our companion book for our new worship series is Angela Hunt's third book in her

Jerusalem Road Series. A Woman of Words recounts the time after the Resurrection of Jesus when the church first takes root as His followers share the good news.

The narrators are two familiar characters. Matthew was a tax collector named Levi when he first met Jesus. One of the least likely candidates for ordination. But Jesus saw in Matthew what others could not.

Mary, the Mother of Jesus, is one of the most recognized, and perhaps, least understood of all the persons who travelled with Jesus. Angela Hunt fills in the gaps using her imagination and an in-depth knowledge of scripture and speculation about scripture.

James, Peter and John ask Matthew to move to Jerusalem and help with the growing church. He dreams of preaching and performing miracles, but finds his dreams postponed after speaking with Mary, Yeshua's mother. Mary asks Matthew to help her write down the stories of Yeshua while the eyewitnesses are still available to be consulted.

Upcoming Worship Series — “Words” ..cont from pg 5

Speaking of scripture, do you ever wonder where the four gospels we have in our bibles came from? Did four of the apostles try to capitalize on their inside knowledge with a lucrative book deal?

Welcome to our worship series, Words.

Our Worship Series beginning in October will take us to Thanksgiving. I encourage you to follow along with our companion book for this series, A Woman of Words, by Angela Hunt. This is the third book in her series, The Road to Jerusalem.

In her book, the Mother of Jesus asks Matthew to help her record the story of her Son’s ministry. But Matthew is hoping to preach and teach like his colleagues do. Also, Mathew would not mind performing a few miracles.

However, he gets invited to help with the growing church in Jerusalem because Matthew has a head for numbers. After all, he was formerly a tax collector. A past Matthew would sooner forget rather than be defined by his former vocation.

Of course, Hunt’s creative imagination regarding the origin of the gospels is not based on verifiable facts. She invites us to imagine together while learning more about how the early church evolved.

In this series, we focus on what happened after the Resurrection of Jesus.

I pray that you will join us each Sunday morning at 10:30am. We share our weekly episodes on our YouTube channel. We go live at 10:30am. You can find these links along with more information about us, or join our live broadcast on our website at FlintAsbury.org.

“Feed Flint”

“Feed Flint”

A meal goes a long way for a senior living alone, a family struggling to make ends meet, or a child fearful of empty shelves at home. But for the residents of Flint who carry the effects of lead-tainted water, nutrition is critical. Feed Flint provides locally grown, chemical-free, fresh produce to residents living in and around Flint. And we're hoping that you can help us provide 10,000 meals this summer.

Feed Flint includes takeout meals, produce boxes with recipes, and home deliveries as part of our work to guide and support families in moving to sustainable abundance. The reality is that Michigan's food insecurity levels got worse during the COVID-19 pandemic, and this summer's recovery is leaving behind those at the most risk of having to miss meals.

Flint families continue to struggle with the ongoing effects of the water crisis.

We're bringing together the resources of the Asbury Community Development Corporation. This includes Asbury Farms, the South Flint Soup Kitchen, the Asbury Community Help Center, multiple food pantries, and our Sizzling Culture Mobile Food Trailer. Our plan is to care for our neighbors when they need it most. We accept all people as they are, and our doors are always open to anyone.

Asbury Farms provides locally grown produce used to create fabulous and nutritious meals. Our seed-to-table approach is community-based. This not only helps families make it through emergencies and crises. We help move families towards sustainable abundance.

Our Sizzling Culture program provides jobs and new skills to our city's youth. This includes year-round employment. Our staff and most of our volunteers come from the neighborhoods we support. We call this sustainable abundance because families move from need-based on scarcity to enough based on community-generated abundance.

Our work is also about food and justice. Our vision is a revitalized community where every resident can use their talents and passions for the common good, where children grow into active citizens. And all residents can enjoy safety, good health, and a culture that fosters life-long learning and satisfying lives. This summer, help us address food insecurity and strengthen Flint's budding local food system by supporting the Feed Flint campaign. Thank you for taking the time to see what we're doing and considering how you can help.

Reluctantly, he agrees, although the two face numerous complexities. For one, Gaius Caesar, more commonly known as Caligula, decides to raise a statue of himself in the Holy Temple. And he is willing to kill every man in Israel if needed.

Matthew's attention turns to saving his people. Meanwhile, Mary encourages him to come to terms with his past. When they finally near the completion of their project, Matthew realizes that the job he reluctantly accepted might be his God-given destiny.

Although Hunt's book is fictional, her attention to details in scripture challenges our knowledge of the Bible. With each character, we meet the questions that percolate inside us. What parts of her description are likely genuine, and which are made up?

Angela Hunt has published over 100 books, selling nearly 5 million copies worldwide. Angela, a New York Times bestselling author, received the Times Book Club Lifetime Achievement Award in 2006. She has a Ph.D. in biblical studies in theology and is well-versed in biblical text. Angela can be found online at www.angelahuntbooks.com. Welcome to the first episode of our new worship series, Words. Each week there is a reading assignment in our companion book, Woman of Words by Angela Hunt.

Reading along with us is completely optional. I plan to recap each week's chapters and focus on one or more of the author's references to stories found in scripture.

Nevertheless, we chose this approach to our series based on experience. Those who read the companion book report a deeper connection to scripture.

We begin with the first four chapters. Matthew, an apostle of Jesus is asked by Peter and John, also apostles, and James, a brother of Jesus, to move to Jerusalem to help.

Here is the schedule for episodes two through eight:

Oct 8	Chapters 5 - 9
Oct 15	Chapters 10 - 15
Oct 22	Chapters 16 - 21
Oct 29	Chapters 22 - 28
Nov 5	Chapters 29 - 33
Nov 12	Chapters 34 - 40
Nov 19	Chapters 41 - 45

Cyndi and I are on vacation Sunday, November 26. The Season of Advent begins Sunday, December 3 with a new worship series.

Our Book Club does not meet as a group. However, our weekly messages reference that week's chapters. You can anticipate spoiler alerts unless you keep up with the pace. I've purchased ten books but when they're gone you can still purchase your own copy or visit your local library.

Angela Hunt. A Woman of Words. Minneapolis: Bethany House, 2021.

In the Book of Isaiah, God reminds us, "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways My ways." In fact, the thoughts of God are so different, so much more powerful, so much more wise, so much more loving, that even to compare what we say to what God says is utterly foolish.

When God speaks, all of creation is affected. God's word is as reliable as the rules of nature. The rain soaks the thirsty ground, nurturing the seed which brings life out of the ground. This is the way God intended it so this is how it works.

"My word ... will not return to me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it," says the Lord. It is not a gamble. It is not about probability and statistics. God's word is a sure thing. God gets God's way all the time.

The Word I speak will not fail to do what I plan. My Word will do everything I send it to do.

Isiah 55:11

In the first part of Isaiah, something went terribly wrong, and the people had ceased being faithful to the covenant that God made with King David. God reduced the land to briars and thorns under divine judgment. God's acts of grace later removed this judgment, but only if the people repent of their hypocrisy and listen carefully to God's Word. As they do, there is a reversal of fortunes as God extends the everlasting covenant made with David to God's people.

Jesus Christ is the Word of God. Jesus lived among people and accomplished that which God intended.
